POLICY STATEMENT:

ACD-1603.1 – Policy

Temporary Modification to Rule for Transfer Credit Earned in Spring 2020 only

For current degree-seeking undergraduate students in the School of Arts & Sciences (A&S), Robins School of Business (RSB), and Jepson School of Leadership Studies (JSLS), and those accepted as transfer students into the University of Richmond’s traditional undergraduate program who have undertaken academic work elsewhere during the Spring of 2020, a grade of Pass, Credit, Satisfactory, or its equivalent earned in Spring 2020 will be accepted in transfer as if a grade of C or higher had been earned. Such credit will be accepted in transfer to the University of Richmond regardless of the format of delivery (remote or in-person) during the Spring 2020 semester, if the credit would have been accepted in an in-person format.

Other policies and procedures related to transfer credit that are not associated with remote delivery or grading will continue for the Spring 2020 semester as written, including but not limited to the following rule:

ACD-1603 Acceptance of Transfer Credit Policy – TEMPORARY MODIFICATION

Credit in transfer may be accepted only for courses which are comparable to courses offered in the School of Arts and Sciences, Jepson School of Leadership Studies, and/or Robins School of Business curriculum at the University of Richmond. Only coursework taken at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting agency or the international equivalent at the time the work was taken will be considered.
